All PhD students must complete a total of 81 credits of graduate-level work beyond the baccalaureate degree, over the course of at least 3 calendar years. Of the 81 graduate-level credits required, at least 36 graduate credits must be in art history and taken for a letter grade. Students must take a minimum of 12 credits in their major area and 8 credits in their minor area after matriculating into UO's HA&A program. Of these 36 credits, a minimum of 12 must be in graduate seminars (600-level), including ARH 611 (Graduate Studies in Art History) or its equivalent. All students are encouraged to take advantage of the global breadth of courses offered in the department and are highly encouraged to take courses outside of their time period and primary geographical area of specialization. Students must complete all required coursework before taking their comprehensive exams and must register for a minimum total of 18 credit hours in ARH 603 Dissertation. Credits in Reading 605 or Dissertation 603 cannot count towards the 36 credits required in art history.

Additional Requirements for BA-PhD Track*: Among the 36 graduate credits required in art history, 12 graduate-level credits must be taken in the first-year seminar series: Graduate Studies in Art History (ARH 611, fall), Seminar: [Topic] (ARH 607, winter), Seminar: [Topic] (ARH 607, spring). An additional 12 graduate-level credits in art history must be taken in three of four historic areas: prehistoric-ancient, medieval, early modern, and modern-contemporary. Students may petition to apply a thematic or non-period-specific course toward the distribution requirement by demonstrating substantial course work in the appropriate area.
